

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

The present invention relates to a system for enabling a moving person to control body movements to be performed by the person. The system comprises a 5 video camera and a monitor for the output of the recorded video image as well as a means for inserting at least a mark indicating the position to reach during execution of a movement of a predetermined body position in the video image.